In 2016, the guitarist Josemi Carmona, cellist Javier Colina and percussionist Bandolero came together for a flamenco-jazz project which resulted in two records, De cerca (2016) and De cerca en directo desde el Café Berlín (2017), with the participation of guests such as Santiago Auserón, Pedro Guerra and Antonio Serrano. The first record was one of the best-selling instrumental music albums of recent years, and more than 7,000 copies have been sold of both records. The group is currently presenting Vida, the third part of this project, with which they have been on tour in Spain and abroad (70 concerts in 14 countries) and which is considered one of the most sophisticated and representative albums of the flamenco-jazz.
With Vida the trio has delved deeper into their particular sound, built throughout these years of a shared musical journey. This new record includes popular pieces, many of them of Latin American origins, and some of Josemi's own flamenco compositions.
