In the south of India, ‘Nilu’ means ‘water’. There is no water in the south of India. This is a journey of resilience, searching and friendship that invites us to reflect on our relationship with this element and to become aware of the need to preserve and protect this priceless treasure for future generations.
Poetry in movement. A show that dries out your throat and irrigates your heart.
Enric Romaguera is a multidisciplinary musician, actor, circus artist, clown and multilevel teacher with a PhD in Physical Activity and Sports Sciences. In 2015 he was selected to perform in Circuba (La Habana). His professional career has not ceased to develop. As a clown who performs in the hospitals of Valencia with the NGO Payasospital, he won the 2021 Honorary Award of Valencian Performing Arts and the Honorary Award of the 2023 Max Awards.
