With ten world-renowned tango dancers and a seven-piece orchestra on stage, Forever Tango is a sensuous and sophisticated show that tells the story of the birth of the genre in 19th century Argentina. According to Luis Bravo, creator of the production, "tango is a feeling that is danced, a story told in three minutes. It is passionate, melancholic; it's tender and violent; you dance with somebody, but it's so internal that you dance by yourself, two intentions that go together... more than just a dance, tango is music, drama, culture. A way of life".

Since the premiere on Broadway in 1997, where the eight weeks initially programmed turned into five seasons, Forever Tango has been staged in many countries where it
