Through dance, the company NS danza will present a story based on The Little Prince by Antoine de Saint-Exupéry, whose publication 80 years ago is celebrated in 2023.

A beautiful story in which the protagonist will travel through the entire universe in search of someone who can teach him to love. In the course of his journey, he will learn that all we need is to love others as much as we must love ourselves, and to try to never lose innocence, hope and respect for the world and the planet.

The company NS danza was founded in 2006 by Nuria Serra, a dancer from Barcelona. Since then, it has created seventeen productions, including shows for children revolving around the subject of gender, and musical theatre. In all of them, the artistic quality of the performers and the unique staging are noteworthy.
