Mileva Maric needs to explain her story as Albert Einstein's first wife, as co-creator of the Theory of Relativity, as a mathematician and physicist forgotten by the scientific community. Mileva is looking for someone from her past to whom she is telling this moving story, full of travels, of love, of difficult decisions, of wise choices and of mistakes, a life devoted to science until her promising career is cut short by the condition as a woman and a mother. The staging, a meticulous production and universal themes such as love, maternity, vocation and women's relationship with the professional world. This is the story of Mileva Maric, Mrs. Einstein, and of her talent, struggle and redemption.
